OBJECTIVES :

- ◆ Basic understanding of “Data & Artificial Intelligence”.
- ◆ To understand the importance of Data & AI and their implementation.
- ◆ To effectively Incorporate “ Design Thinking” .
- ◆ Learn various Stratagems to Data Collection and Interpretation.

About the programme

The Department of Information Technology hosted a guest lecture titled 'Data & Artificial Intelligence' on September 13, 2023. The event drew a significant audience, comprising second and third-year students from the Department of Information Technology. The program emphasized the importance of acquiring knowledge in the fields of Data and AI. The opening remarks were delivered by Akshara, the President of AIT, and the chief guest was introduced by Lekhashree Rajesh, Vice President of AIT. Dr. V.M. Sivagami, Professor and the AIT Coordinator, Department of Information Technology, introduced the Office Bearers of AIT 2023.

Dr. T. Sukumar, the Assistant Head of the Department of Information Technology, commenced the event with an introductory speech, highlighting the significance of Data & Artificial Intelligence and the essential role it plays in educating our students. Madhumitha R, an Executive Member of AIT, skillfully guided the event as the host, and the stage was then handed over to the Chief Guest to enlighten the students with their insights on Data & AI."

Ms. Shruthi Chander Sekhar initiated a captivating lecture, offering numerous illustrative examples on the topic and sharing invaluable insights about AI. She also explained about the versatile applications of data across various fields, emphasizing the critical role of data collection and utilization in societal development. She stressed the responsibility of Information Technology engineers in comprehending the significance of data and using it for informed decision-making.

Furthermore, the speaker placed a strong emphasis on the need for 'Design Thinking,' providing a wide array of illustrative instances. Engaging the students actively, she conducted various activities to facilitate their grasp and practical application of the concepts discussed.

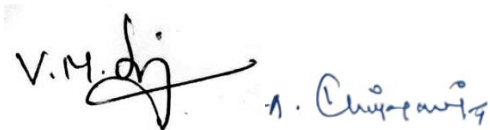

The lecture's conclusion featured a series of recommendations to help students prepare for job opportunities, advance in their chosen fields, and gain valuable experience. This guest lecture proved to be highly beneficial to all attendees, and the session drew to a close. Rashmika R S, an Executive Member of AIT, extended a vote of thanks.

Following the lecture, Dr. T. Sukumar, Assistant HoD and the Guest speaker distributed badges to the Office Bearers of AIT 2023.

The program concluded with the rendition of the National Anthem."

OUTCOMES

- ◆ Enlightened the importance of data and its effective utilization for both faculty and students.
- ◆ Exposed to real world applications of the concepts taught in their courses.
- ◆ Imparted knowledge on how to manage complex data and thus help the students to effectively master the courses offered and encourage them to make real world implementations.
- ◆ Emphasized the significance of AI and provide effective methods for its utilization, thereby enhancing understanding of its functioning and necessity.
- ◆ The Guest lecture topic mentioned above correlates with the following courses: OE18808 - Android AI, VD18801 - Data Analysis using R, and NW18009 - Data Analytics and Business Intelligence.
