Reflection Report of Guest Lecture on “Python Programming”

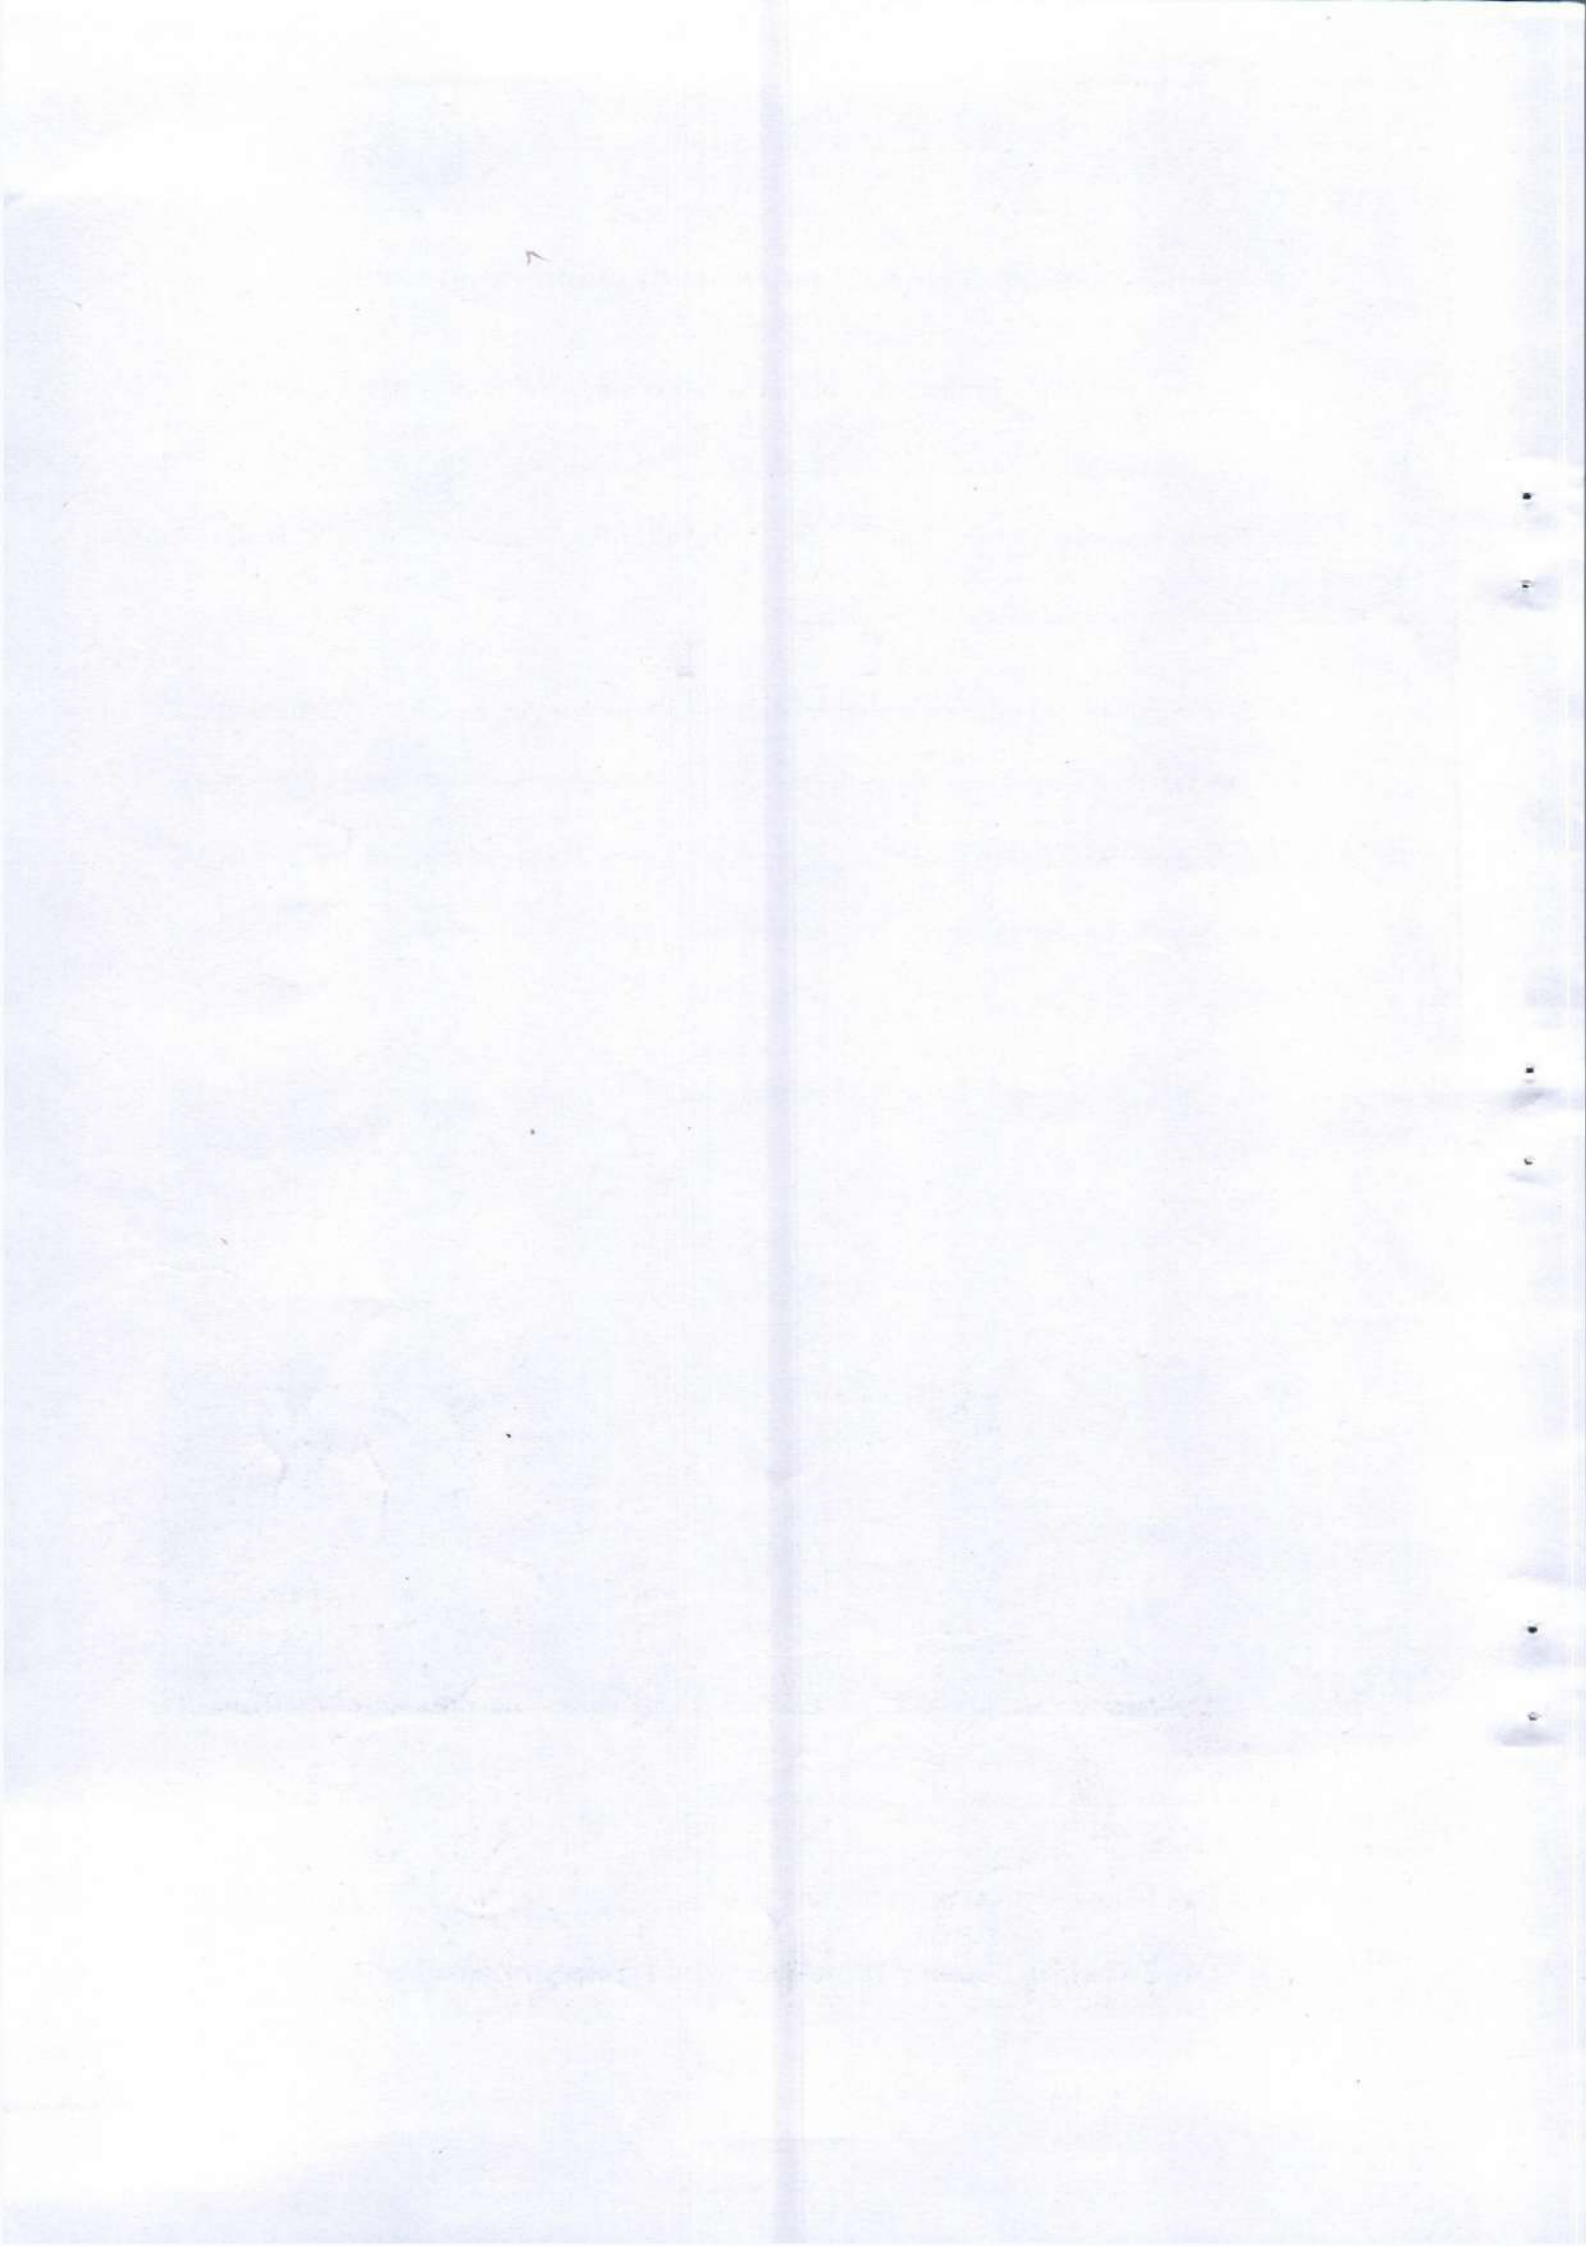

The Department of Computer Science & Engineering, Sri Venkateswara College of Engineering organized a “Workshop on Python Programming” between 11-10-18 and 12-10-18 at Cloud Computing Lab. The Resource person for the Workshop Mr. R Sairam, Data Scientist, GeoinsysSoft, Chennai.

The Workshop started with an Inauguration function at 9 am in the Cloud Computing Lab on 11 – 10 - 18. Dr. P. Janarthanan, Associate Professor, welcomes the Guest and the gatherings. Dr. R. Nedunchelian, Professor delivers the felicitation address. He also emphasis the importance of Python programming language to the participants. Dr. J.M. Gnanasekar introduces the Resource Person Mr. R. Sai Ram.

The speaker makes his plan very clear as below

- Day 1 Basic Python programming
- Day 2 Machine Learning Techniques using Python programming

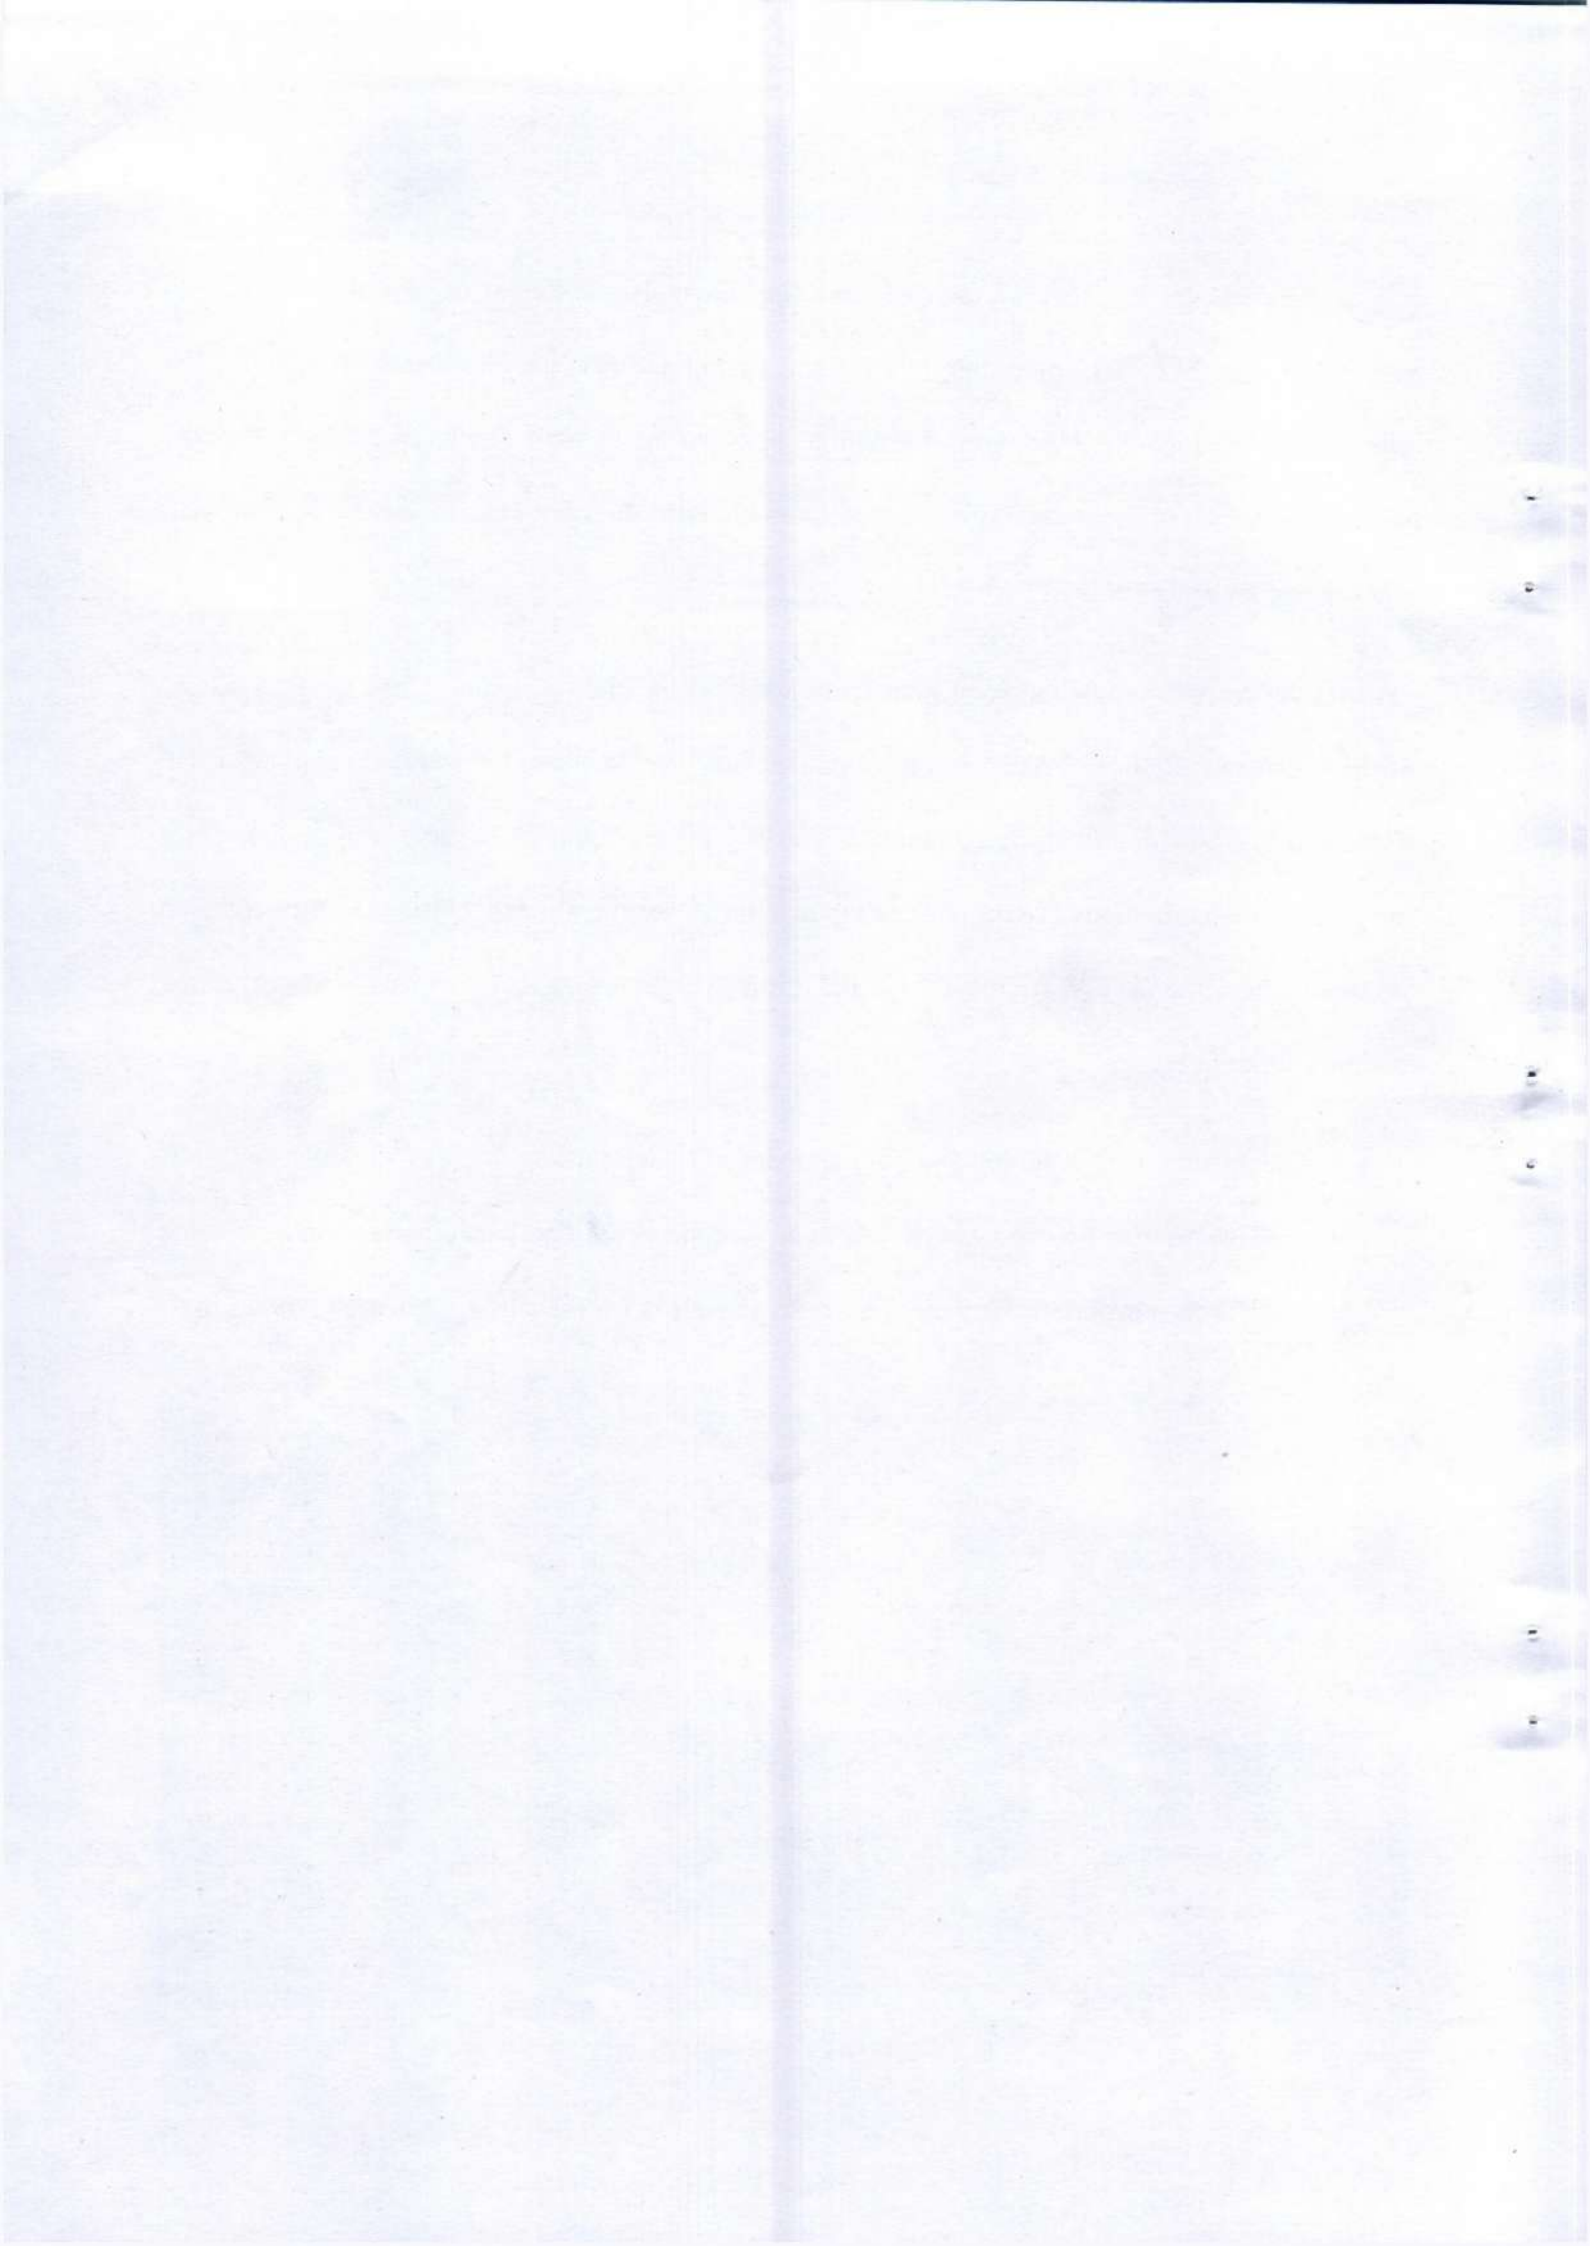

As scheduled Day 1 focused on fundamentals, features of Python. The data representations like list, dictionary and their manipulations are discussed in detail. The participants are encouraged to work during the course of the lecture. The speaker also interacted with the audience in the middle of the session and clarified their doubts. He also gives some real time examples on projects in Python

The second day of the workshop lecture started in time on 9:00am. The speaker started with Advanced Python Programming then moves to Machine Learning Techniques. He explained the Machine learning techniques like Regression Analysis, Classification, Clustering and Ensemble methods etc. He explained the machine learning concepts with examples and also he often interacted with participants. He has through light on research aspects using machine learning techniques.

The lecture was received by 58 members with admiration by the students and staff members of Computer Science and Mechanical Engineering. The participants also found the Workshop will be appropriate for their academics as well as for their future research work also.

Feedback from the Participants Involved in Group Discussion

The Valedictory function of the Workshop is scheduled at 2.45 pm on 12-10-18. Dr. R. Anitha, Head Computer Science gave her feedback as the Workshop is really good and kindle the interest among the participants. She advised the students to take up machine learning as research domain with Python for implementation. She also congratulates the Coordinators for their effort.

Ms. R Vinothayalakshmi, AP/CS appreciated the Mr. R Sairam about his content delivery and usefulness of the workshop. Ms. Bampararh I year ME/CS told about worth of the workshop and praised the Chief Guest about his approach towards audience to clarify the doubts.
