Golang Workshop

The Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Sri Venkateswara College of Engineering conducted a Two day online hands on workshop on Golang on 13th and 14th February 2021 in GMeet. The guest speaker was Mr. SYED ALI SAIT, Senior Software Engineer, NTUC Fairprice, Singapore

The Session started with a introduction about the speaker and importance of technologies evolved in today's world by HoD/CS. Further she discussed on why Golang? - Robust system-level language used for programming across large-scale network servers and big distributed systems. Golang emerged as an alternative to C++ and Java for the app developers in the context of what Google needed for its network servers and distributed systems.Today, Golang has been used by renowned companies, like Netflix, Uber, Facebook, Dropbox, etc. It is expected to grow as an extensively used programming language in future.
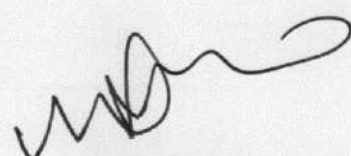

The speaker gave introduction on Go language, it is an open source programming language developed by Google. It is a statically-typed compiled language. Go supports concurrent programming, i.e. it allows running multiple processes simultaneously. This is achieved using channels, goroutines, etc. Go Language has garbage collection which itself does the memory management and allows the deferred execution of functions.

The speaker elaborated about go compiler with hardware limitations also stated features of language:

Language Design
Package Management
Powerful standard library

Static Typing

Testing Support

Platform Independent

Day 1 (13 February 2021)

Golang Vs Other languages – A small Comparison

Golang Installation and Setup

Golang Basics

Golang- Interface Concepts

•Day 2 (14 February 2021)

Golang – Routines, Packages and GoModules

MySQL database Creation

Connection establishment between Golang and database
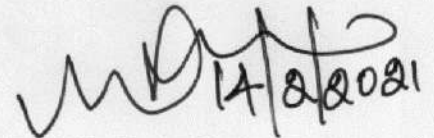

Handling HTTP request and response

Web development using Golang

The session ended with the quiz conducted in Slido and awarded Amazon Voucher for the winner. The Speaker given some key Takeways on Go language, Go's simplicity allows you to quickly get started using it—you can digest the whole specification in just one afternoon.Go's future is shaped by its open-source community which discusses and debates on all feature proposals. Unless a clear consensus is reached, the feature won't be implemented.

The community's size doubles around every 18 months.Initially, the base of adopters was coming from dynamic languages like python or ruby, now as the language has matured Java, .NET, and C++ programmers have started adopting it as well.In a challenging year, the community adapted to support each other, multiple meetups appeared, and new resources.

The workshop ended with feedback from the participants and Q&A Session.
