REPORT ON ONLINE WEBINAR ON “MATHEMATICAL MODELING IN BIOLOGY”

23rd July 2020.

Date: 23rd July 2020

Time: 3.00pm – 4.30pm

Objectives (Maximum 50 words):

The primary objective of the webinar is to highlight the idea of Mathematical modeling associated with different branches of Science and Engineering in real life. Specifically the investigation of blood flow problems in a capillary was explained through modelling.

About the programme (Min 500 words):

A model is a simplified representation of a system (or process or theory) intended to enhance our ability to understand, predict and possibly control the behavior of the system. Understanding is necessary to change, to preserve, or just to know and explain the behavior of system. Physical construction of real systems may be impossible, expensive, time-consuming, etc., and may not be available for experimentation so we tend to simplify our thoughts and ideas through models.

Models may have different views on real life. Engineers/ Scientists/ Statisticians rely on Mathematical models and Architects/ Defense people rely on Physical models. This webinar aims to model biological problem related to blood flow and how to find solutions using computational methods. It pays an idea for researchers to model their thoughts and ideas and how to proceed to the conclusion.

Webinar on Mathematical modeling was organised by Dr AR Vijayalakshmi with the welcome address by our beloved Head of the Department and Dean Research Dr. R. Muthucumaraswamy and introduction of the chief guest by Dr B Saravanan(coordinator) in the presence of Dr M Radhakrishnan(coordinator)

The programme was planned with an eminent speaker Dr. Nirmala P. Ratchagar, Professor of Mathematics & Dean, Faculty of Science , Annamalai University .

The resource person kindled the research ideas in the minds of the young researchers and got the appreciation from the participants. There are more than 25 participants from abroad and 40 from other states of India and 30 from various Engineering and Arts and Science colleges of Tamil Nadu including research scholars and faculties from various disciplines.

The vote of thanks was proposed by Dr M Radhakrishnan and the feedback link was posted in the chat box, certificates to the participants were generated immediately and sent to their mail Id after they fill the feedback.

Benefits (Maximum 50 words):

The participants from outside is very happy about the programme and they gave positive feedback about the programme. Our faculty from other discipline got motivated in the subject modeling.
