CODE OF ETHICS

Knowledge infringement and transfer of content without proper references are some of the unhealthy practices in research, in particular, plagiarism is a main problem among the academic community. In order to ensure the high level of ethical standards in research and other academic activities, the code of ethics for research work, project and other academic activities has been practiced at Sri Venkateswara College of Engineering, affiliated under Anna University, Chennai.

- All faculty, research scholars and the students of SVCE are to maintain the highest standards of morality, integrity, truthfulness and professionalism with respect to their study such as research or project undertaken by them.

- Prior to submission of papers to Journals members are requested to undertake declaration Antiplagiarism declaration and the same available in the Dean (Research) website

- All scholars are encouraged to submit their original work in the case of projects and thesis.

- No compromise on plagiarism and claiming others work as one's own work is not at all permitted.

- Plagiarism and falsification of involvement or authorship lead to a failure to adhere to meet ethical standards and integral practices. Such unfair actions at the Doctoral levels would amount to downgrading of assessment, mandates to re-do and directions for resubmission.

- All research scholars enrolled in recognized research centers of SVCE by Anna University, Chennai are required to submit their published paper, synopsis and thesis for plagiarism check through URKUND plagiarism check software which has been made available to all the recognized Supervisor by Anna University, Chennai.
