PROFILE OF THE SPEAKER

Dr. Shyamala Mani, Sr. Advisor, WASH and Waste Management, Public Health Foundation of India (PHFI) since 2018 retired as Professor from the National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA), New Delhi where she completed projects such as Swachh Bharat Mission Capacity Building for ULBs as its Team Leader, Master Plan Delhi 2041 as its sector advisor for Solid Waste Management, Urban Climate Change Resilience as a Co-PI besides Solar Street Lighting Project. She was Editor of Urban India, NIUA's institutional journal for two years and participated in international conferences and seminars. She is an executive committee member of the Climate Centre for Cities of Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs.

She has a Ph.D in Environmental Science from JNU and an MPH from School of Public Health, University of California Berkeley, USA. A national science talent scholar, a recipient of ICAR Fellowship in Agri. Microbiology and Fogarty International fellowship in Environmental Health, she has presented research papers in several conferences and seminars in India and abroad. She received the UNCHS Global 100 award for waste management and sanitation in Bangalore in 1998, Plasticon India award for Plastics Reuse and Recycling in 2005 and recognition from UNU-IAS, Japan for Regional Centre of Expertise on waste management in pilgrimage places in 2007 & Dr. Abdul Kalam Gold Medal award for public health in 2015 from GEPR.

A member of several professional organizations, she has published in reputed books and journals. Besides helping in formulation of the BMWM Rules 2016, SWM Rules 2016, PWM Rules 2016 promulgated by Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change, she served in the monitoring committee until 2020. Dr. Mani is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Understanding Climate and Health Associations in India (UCHAI) network, was a member of the Expert Advisory Committee for selecting SWM projects for Department of Science and Technology, Chairperson of TIFAC committee for Technical Needs Assessment for Waste sector for UNFCCC under Ministry of Science and Technology and a member of Integrated Solid Liquid Waste Management under Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation. She is member of Rotary Club of Delhi Central, New Delhi and a member of the IDC Foundation, New Delhi and founder editor of its journal.

Dr. Mani joined Public Health Foundation of India, Gurugram in June 2018 as Senior Advisor where she guides various projects of the Centre for Environmental Health. Some of the projects completed include Pictorial Guide for Healthcare Waste Management including home healthcare waste during normal and COVID times with CPCB supported by HCWH, inputs for Climate Resilient Primary Health Centres supported by NCDC, written and conducted several book chapters and courses on sustainable WASH and Waste Management including municipal solid waste management.

Working at the Centre for Environment Education (CEE) for 25 years, as Programme Director (Waste and Resources Management), she implemented several projects which led to the formulation of Biomedical Waste Management (BMWM) Rules 1998, Plastic Waste Management (PWM) Rules 1999, Solid Waste Management (SWM) Rules 2000 and E-waste management Rules 2011 before joining NIUA in 2012. She mentors many NGOs and entrepreneurs set up business in the waste sector.

Brief Report of the Webinar

The webinar started with a welcome note by Mr. G. Arun, Assistant Pofessor, Civil Engineering, coordinator of this Program. He also gave a brief introduction about the speaker to the Participants.

Dr. Shyamala K. Mani, started the lecture by stating the current scenario of Municipal Solid Waste Management in India. Inappropriate waste management techniques used were highlighted with the consequences. The focus was given to the current waste management and how to do better. The types of household waste were discussed with what can be done with the recyclables and non recyclables.

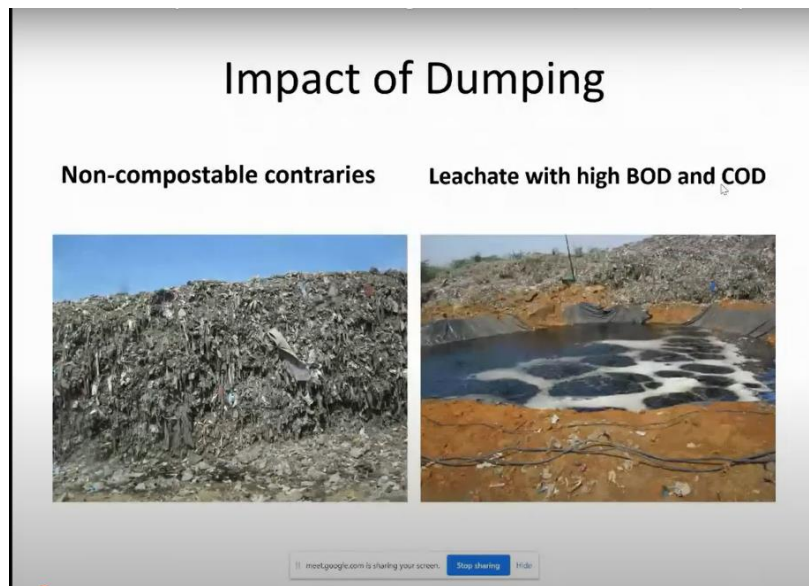

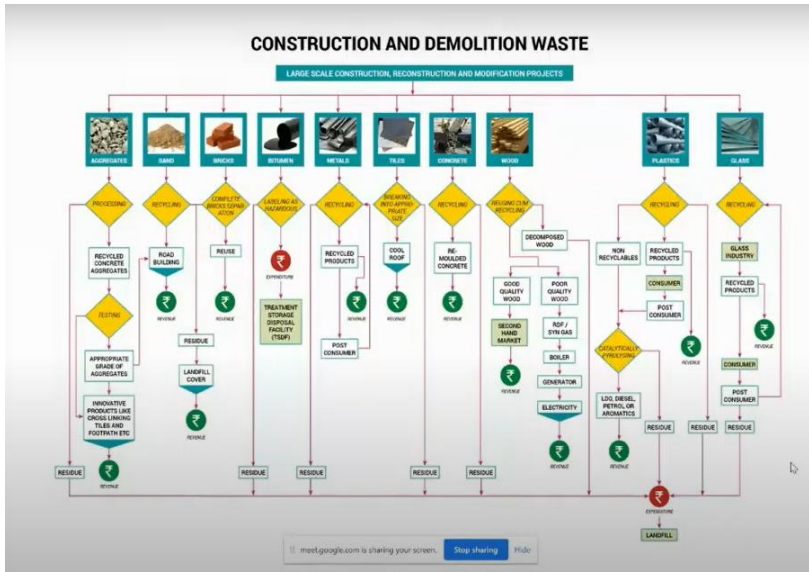

The methods used for day to day collection of waste, the vehicles and technologies that can be used were discussed. Quality and quantity of waste with regard to the population was discussed. The different waste management techniques were discussed in detail regarding composting, biomethanation, etc.

She explained about the types of construction and demolition waste, its recovery and management techniques with the money return that can be expected too. The waste treatment techniques were also discussed. Adequate collection, gathering, investment of funds, treatment methods have impact on the best solid waste management.

The speaker concluded the session and discussed on the many queries from the participants.

The students, faculty and industry personnels participated in the webinar. The session ended with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms. Logeshwari, third year student of Civil Engineering. The participants also had appreciated the webinar being well organized with good.

Summary of Feedback

Additional comments/feedback from participants:

- It was an import and excellent topic
- Session was useful and informative
- Well organized session
- Excellent speaker
- Well taught, very insightful and enriching session
- It was a truly informative and inspiring technical webinar. I have really learned some contemporary issues regarding Municipal Solid Waste Management in India from this session. Thank you very much.
- Please Conduct more programs on earthquake resistant design and analysis and tall structures design and analysis
- The session was well organized in terms of coordination and delivery of content, It is appreciated. Look forward for the next sessions.
- useful for career development
