Report

Event Details:

1. Resource Person : Ms. Krithika Venkatesh
2. Target Audience : II, III and IV year IT
3. Venue : Offline
4. Date & Time : 10th Aug 2022, 11.00 AM - 12.30 PM

Objectives:

- This guest lecture aims at making the students realise the importance of effective communication.
- It helps the students to understand the importance of being able to communicate effectively and the various ways to improve their communication skills.
- The 5 rules to be followed to be an effective communicator and a good orator have been mentioned.

The Department of Information Technology organised a Guest Lecture on “CHAMP for Better Communication” on 10th August 2022. It was inaugurated by Dr.T.Sukumar, Assistant Head of Department, Information Technology, Sri Venkateswara College of Engineering. Faculties and students of II and III years from the Department of Information Technology actively participated in this lecture and got benefited from the programme.

The guest talk started with a warm welcome by Ms. Sneha, Third year, Treasurer of AIT. The prayer song was sung by Ms. Aishwarya, Executive Member of AIT. The introduction of Chief Guest was given by Ms. Deekshitha, General Secretary of AIT.

Ms. Krithika started the lecture by emphasising the importance of communication skills. She also briefed about the 5 golden rules-CHAMP that one must take care of in order to be a good communicator.

Ms. Krithika started with the letter C, which stands for Confidence. She advised the students to relax and keep calm while speaking and also to maintain a good eye contact with the audience.

Next, she expanded the letter H as Hearing. She mentioned that a good speaker should be a good listener. She suggested that good listening skills helps us to better our learning and also to understand others' emotions.

Following this, she expanded the letter A as "The Ahs". By Ahs, she meant the insignificant words that we use while communicating. She further added that the use of such filler words should be avoided to become an effective orator. She also suggested ways to stop using filler words which includes pausing in between and chunking speech.

The speaker mentioned that the letter M stands for Modulation. She explained about the upward and downward deflection of voices with an example. She also highlighted the different characteristics of voice such as pitch, loudness, pace, etc. and pointed out the importance of each of those.

The speaker finished the lecture by talking about the last letter P which is Practice. She asked all the students to practise how to present their self-introduction when asked.

Many participants, including students and faculties, actively participated in the doubts session. The participants got benefited from it.

The Vote of Thanks was presented by Mr. Sanjiv, Executive Member of AIT. The lecture ended with a Thank you note by a short note on the event presented by Dr.V.Vidhya, Head of Department, Information Technology.

The memento was presented to the Guest by Dr.V.Vidhya, HoD, Information Technology. A group picture was taken with Ms. Krithika, HoD-IT, Assistant Hod-IT, AIT Coordinators and AIT Office Bearers.

Outcomes:

- ◆ The students were able to effectively communicate during campus placements.
- ◆ Facilitated collaboration, teamwork, and ideas-sharing among the students to succeed in hackathons and competitions
